The exhibition provides a variety of side entertainments and has been attracting a large number of visitors. The rates of admission to the exhibition are also very high and the collections run to several thousands apart apart from the state rents the side shows appear to be exempt from Entertainments tax also Scavenging Services are perhaps provided by the Corporation on the circumstances it is for consideration whether it is not for the exhibition authorities to provide this basic convenience to the public who throng in large numbers and pay for admission, and how far the Corporation or Corporation would be justified to pay the state payers money towards the cost of constructing these temporary constructions. Such a grant does not appear to have been given in any previous year. It is open thing to contribute towards the organising of an exhibition and a different thing to give a grant one year after to meet the item of its Capital Cost

The request is to grant Rs 2500 to the Congress Exhibition Committee for having put up lavatories in Exhibition area in the year 1952. The exhibition during the current year 1953 is also over. It cannot be understood why the public money should be given for a work which is already done one year back. The proposal may be turned down. Greater Scrutiny and a greater thought has to be bestowed before recommendations are made for spending Public money. The proposal deserves to be turned down.
